

I'll be using the Wikipedia entry for Stephen Curry.

I plan on building this on a few different pages, with one main page containing most of the important information. I do not plan to focus on his whole life, rather, I want to focus on his NBA career and biggest accomplishments in that space.

- Home Page

- Show NBA/career related information on this page, along with highlighting his biggest accomplishments and impact on the NBA. Probably would not put some of the early-life information or anything that doesn't contribute to the overall picture of his career. I also plan on adding career statistics and NBA awards on this page.

- College career

- Steph had a great run in the NCAA tournament in college, I want to highlight this run as it was very notable in his development.

- Professional career

- I will further divide this page into specific years that outline his NBA championships. I will also include a few notable games.

- Sources

- I will list the sources here, they may be combined in the future with the home page.
